Thus its height is more than twice and its span more than three times as great as those of the famous natural bridge of Virginia. Its buttresses are one hundred and eighteen feet farther apart than those of the celebrated masonry arch in the District of Columbia, known as Cabin John Bridge, a few miles from Washington city, which has the greatest span of any masonry bridge on this continent. This bridge would overspan the Capitol at Washington and clear the top of the dome by fifty-one feet. And if the loftiest tree in the Calaveras Grove of giant sequoia in California stood in the bottom of the canyon, its topmost bough would lack thirty-two feet of reaching the under side of the arch.

Old Denver Testimonials DENVER, COLO., Jan. 18, 1893.

I have known Dr. G. E. Jacobs for the past twelve years, and I highly esteem him as a personal friend. I am also acquainted with his work as a specialist in Pennsylvania and adjacent states. As a trusted specialist for the celebrated optical firm of Queen & Co., of Philadelphia, he did a very extensive business in fitting glasses throughout all of central and southwestern Pennsylvania, Baltimore, Wilmington and Washington, Afterwards, he conducted a very successful business for himself, with headquarters at Philadelphia, which he was reluctantly obliged to relinquish last fall on account of ill health. Finding the climate of Denver beneficial; he has permanently located here. Dr Jacobs has fitted me with glasses that are a source of great comfort to me. I desire to emphasive especially the care taken in properly-adjusting them to my face. I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Jacobs as thoroughly competent and reliable in every respect.

REV. C. W. HEISLER, Pastor St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

I am glad to bear testimony to the fact that in an examination of my eyes, and fitting glasses to them, Dr. G. E. Jacobs REV. B. T. VINCENT, D. D. gave me great satisfaction. University Park.

DENVER. February 1, 1595. From childhood I have been afflicted with astigmatism. By the use of defective glasses, prescribed by inefficient specialists, I had so nearly ruined my sight that I could not read even very large print in daylight without distress. I suffered almost constantly with pain in my head, especially near the base of the brain. Total blindness seemed to threaten me in the near future. About five months ago Dr. G. E. Jacobs fitted me with glasses which I wear constantly. The distress in my head is diminishing and I am able to read and do my work with an ease and comfort unknown to me for more than fifteen years. Dr. Jacobs has also fitted glasses for my two boys, and others with whom I am personally acquainted, and in each case perfect satisfaction has been given. REV. J. A. DAFOE.

Pastor First Free Methodist Church.

TO WHOM IT CONCERNS:

I gladly testify that Dr. G. E. Jacobs has helped me more in fitting lenses to my eyes than any man I have applied to. For ten years I have not had such comfort in reading, and heartily commend him to all who need such service.

DENVER, COLO., June & 1804.

DEAR SIR :- I cannot express to you the comfort and satisfaction I receive from the use of the bi-focal lenses you made for me. For five years or more. I have been constantly annoyed by being obliged to wear two pairs of glasses when reading or writing, having been told by prominent oculists and opti-cians both East and West that the proper correction could not be combined in one frame for my special need. I coniess I was skeptical when you proposed a bi-local lens, and still more so when, upon examining my eyes, you suggested that the glasses which I was then wearing, and which I had worn for astigmatism for several years, were not the proper correction for me. But when you stated that I must be suffering severely for me. But when you stated that I must be suffering severely from headache, I was convinced that you understood my case, for I had indeed been a sufferer for years. With the proper correction which you gave me. I am relieved of the suffering, and also save the expense of doctor's bills.

I had always supposed it absolutely necessary to consult an oculiet even for glasses, and had paid that profession but little less than two hundred dollars, besides what I had paid opticians—whose work has now been proven unsatisfactory.

As a teacher for many years, I have had occasion to know something of the laws and principles of refraction, and I speak

As a teacher for many years. I have had occasion to know something of the laws and principles of refraction, and I speak advisedly when I say I believe you fully understand your profession—that of Doctor of Refraction.

An oculist treats diseases of the eve; an optician is, or should be, skilled in opties; jewelers and peddlers self-spectacles; and from my own personal experience with them. I am led to the conclusion that there are oculists and oculists, and there are opticians and opticians, and peddlers and peddlers, but there are few refractionists. Sincerely.

ALLEMAN'S STORE NEWS

GREAT AUGUST CLEARING SALE

WE have a lot of summer goods that positively must go, and to make the going sure we have marked them all at irresistibly low prices. We have never before made such a cut in prices, but the surplus stock must go before the last of August, and they will go at the prices.

Such an array of real bargains we have never had before. The figures given below are astonishing, but they are facts nevertheless.

Hammecks

Cut in half-of course we mean the price. The Hammocks are just the same as ever, finely woven, of good strong texture, artistically blended colors, and strong and durable. Here is a chance you will not get soon again to get a good Hammock cheap. (Second floor.)

Look at the cut. Refrigerators Reduced. $7.50. reduced to $14.00 $6.50. $12.00 reduced to $8.00. reduced to $15.00. $7.00. reduced $12.50 $8.00. $16.00 reduced ťΟ $6.00. reduced $10.00 $9.00. -.reduced $18.00 to $5.00.

Water Coolers.

Best charcoal-lined, in sizes from 1½ gallons to 10 gallons. A straight 20 per cent. off on every Cooler. We wouldn't need to make this reduction as they were cheap before, but they must join in this Clearance Sale of Summer goods.

Ice Cream Freezers.

Also join in with a 15 per cent. cut. White Mountain, Artic and Lightning Freezers. Three_of the very best Freezers made. It isn't too late to make ice-cream this summer. In fact it is just the right time. Three whole months yet and then besides you will have it for next summer and many summers to come. Think of the many dainty ices and desserts you can make when you have a Freezer, and don't be without one when you can buy it at such a sacrifice price.

Tin Fruit Cans.

We have a lot of Tin Fruit Cans, quart size, which must go now. We will not carry them over. 25cts. per dozen is all we ask for them now, and they are worth double that, but we are not thinking of the value of goods now except to give our customers more value for their money than they ever got before. Greystone Agateware.

50 per cent, reduction on every piece of Greystone ware we have in the store. Some pieces have a chip or two off, but not enough to hurt, and most of the pieces are perfect. (Second Floor).

Jelly Tumblers.

Big lot, must go, and so the price has been eat from 20, 22 and 21 ets., per dozen, to 16, 18 and 20 cts. per dozen. We advise you to buy Jelly Tumblers now for if there are any left, which we doubt, they will be at the old price after August. (Second Floor).

THE EARLIEST COMEDY.

It Was Played at Athens by the First Traveling Actors.

The first recorded comedy was played at Athens, B. C. 578, when Susarion and Dolon, the earliest traveling actors, performed a comedy of Susarion's composition on a movable stage mounted upon four wheels. The new form of play was so successful that the actors were rewarded by the grateful populace with a cask of wine and a basket of figs.

Susarion belonged to Megaris, a state of ancient Greece, whose inhabitants were celebrated for their coarse humer, and who, in their villages during the evenings, were wont to hold what they called a comust really a revel, in which imprompts acting, coupled with buffoonery, played a considerable part. From this word we have our comedy.

In England the old miracle plays degenerated very early into what but for their religious associations were mere forces, but the first purely Enghish comedy was one by Udail, an as sistant muster at R.on. and subsequently head master of Westminster school. It was entitled "Ralph Roister-Doister" and seems to have been performed in London about 1551, being published in 156% ten years after its author's death.

PERSONAL NOMENCLATURE.

Ancient Names and the Modern System of Surnames.

Neither Hebrews, Ecyptians, Assyrlans, Palyionians, Persians nor Greeks had surnames, and in the earliest period of their history the same may be said of the Romans. In course of time. however, every Roman citizen bad three names-the praenomen, or personal name; the nomen, or name of the gens or clan, and the cognomen, or family name, as Publius Cornelius Scipie. Conquerors were occasionally complimented by the addition of a fourth name, or agnomen, commemorative of their conquest, as Publius Cornelius Scipio Africanus.

It is impossible to state with any degree of certainty when the modern A SATISFACTORY system of personal nomenciature became general. It has been stated that the practice of surnames began in Normandy and extended to England after the Norman conquest, but a document in the Cottonian MSS, quoted in Turner's "History of the Angio-Saxons" contains reference to Hwita Hatte, a keeper of bees in Hathfelda; to Tate Hatte, his daughter, mother of Wulsige the Shooter, and Lulle Hatte, sister of Wulsige. The date of these recbefore the year 1066. So far as anti-Harte is the first surname whose existence can be traced in England. It is not improbable that the founder of the Hatte family was so called because of some unusual or noticeable headgear that he was in the habit of wearing.

THE BUTTERFLY

Some of the Extraordinary Gifts of This Silent Insect.

The extraordinary gifts of the butterfly race have alway crited the wonder not only of naturalists, but of the most ignorant observers-their silent and unseen changes, the instinct by which they distinguish their favorite plant food-as, for instance, even among the scarcely differing species of the complex race of a 'c : where they show themselves, as Professor Asa Gray said, "better botanists than many of us;" their skill in depositing their eggs unerringly on or near the precise plant on which the forthcoming caterpillars are fitted to feed, although they as butterflies have never tasted it. To there should be added their luxurious spread of wings, giving opportunities for those likenesses and variations of color which protect them during the few days of their winged state; the brief time when, if ever, their eggs must be laid and the continuance of the race made sure. The whole realm of animal "mimicry." as it is now termed, reaches its highest point in them and leads to some extreme cases, as in the fact that, while butterflies are ordinarily monogamous, there is yet one species in Africa which has departed; so widely from thus rule that the male. has not one mate only, but actually three different wives, each so utterly unlike him in appearance as to have long been taken for wholly different species.—T. W. Higginson in Atlantic.

The deplorable possibility of losing all the women of the tribe was averted. however, by the prompt action of the chiefs, who ordered all of the remaining female element to this unknown island in the Caribbean. According to the legend, the place is copiously watered by ideal streams, overshadowed by breadfruit, mango, plantain and all the necessaries to life and poetry. The husbands and lovers were allowed to visit the island paradise not more than twice a year in times of peace.

But it is further handed down that, all the men of the tribe were eventually wiped out in an Indian war and that all trace of the isle of women was lost. According to Washington Irving. even Columbus made vain efforts to find it.

iOriginal.1 Royal Leighton had been hanging about Blanche Asche for a long while.

YACHT RACE

Miss Ascho gave him little encouragement; indeed, she seemed to be at times bored by his presistency. She was full of mischief and occasionally would give him a bit of hope just to see how ords of the Hattes is not to be ascer- crestfullen he would be when she gave tained, but they were certainly written him the cold shoulder. Both were rich. Leighton's taste was for horses; quarians have been able to discover, Miss Asche's for boats. One day when Leighton had proposed for the tenth time the lady said to him:

> "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll match my yacht Ariadne against your Oneida. If your boat beats mine I'll marry you. If mine beats yours be it understood that you're not to bother me with your propositions ever after." "But my Oneida is a tub." said

Leighton. "I know nothing about yachts. You know a lot about them, and your Ariadne is the fastest boat of her class affoat in American waters."

"It's that or nothing," Blauche replied. "If you accept, I'll send my sailing master to you to arrange the details; if not, I shall consider any future attentions from you as the world would consider an insult from one who has refused to fight."

There was nothing for Leighton but to seize upon this one chance. He agreed to the terms, the best two in three races, sailed under the standard yachting rules. Both yachts were inspected and measured, but this was 2 mere form, for neither was to give the other any time.

On the day of the first race few knew anything about it, and those who did failed to see much pleasure in prospect for a race between the fleet Ariadne and the commonplace Oneida.

There was a fine breeze to the stake boat, and the Ariadne sailed away from the Oneida, turning the stake half a mile in the lead, but coming back there was much surprise on the part of the spectators to see that the Oneida under a slackening wind gained on her rival, but she did not make up more than half her loss, and the first race was won by Miss Asche.

At the second—a triangular race there was scarcely any wind at all. The spectators speculated as to how the Oneida could get over the water. while the Ariadne was almost becalmed, but it was generally supposed that the sailor of the former took advantage of a tide current. The Oneida drew away from her rival on the second leg of the triangle and kept most of what she had gained on the third leg, coming in a full minute

Miss Asche's heart stood still.

Before the third race was sailed the captain of the Ariadne asked permission to make a personal inspection of inspector was looking for some propeiling machinery he found none. Indeed there was no need of such an inspection, for a representative of each owner sailed on the opposing yacht. The captain went away apparently satisfied, but puzzled. There were a few persons on the dock early in the day before the third race who saw members of the Oneida's crew go alloard and noticed that when they waiked it was with a stiff gait. while one of them had a stomach ou him dispropertionate to his limbs. But these witnesses had nothing to do with the yachts or the races.

The third race was to and from a stake boat with the wind on the quarter. The winning of the second race by the Oneida had excited an interest in the last trial, and the course was covered by yachts and pleasure boats. Of course no one knew of the stake or there would have been no room on the water for the contestants.
